Dear Henri -

Thanks for your note. I am sorry about your sister. It must be very sobering to find yourself the last sibling, but how rewarding that you could go off and teach and face the future rather than the past. Great music never dies, after all.

I am anxious to hear - eventually - all about your meeting with Anita Diamant in New York. But I am off tomorrow for two weeks in Colorado with Sam Blake and then I have to go to Vermont on business + will be running around till Labor Day - Mail, however, will get to me if there is good news to report. I'll keep my fingers crossed.

Love to Emmy + to you.

Dan.

Dear Henri –

Thanks for your note. I am sorry about your sister. It must be very sobering to find yourself the last siblings, but how rewarding that you could go off and teach and face the future rather than the past. Great music never dies, often all.

I am anxious to learn – eventually – all about your meeting with Anita Diamant in New York. But I am off tomorrow for two weeks in Colorado with son Blake and then I have to go to Vermont on business + will be running around till Labor Day – mail, however, will get to me if there is good news to report. I'll keep my fingers crossed.

Love to Emmy + to you.

Dan.
